A YEAR OF resilience

VALLEY COMMUNITY FOUNDATION
2020 ANNUAL REPORT
Dear Community Partner,

When we say that we hope this finds you well and in good health, we sincerely mean it given the unprecedented year that 2020 has proven to be. There is no denying that we have been weathering the storm of a lifetime.

It would be a monumental understatement to say that our communities have been strained as a crisis of multiple and different events has played out over the past year. Healthcare systems have found ways to work beyond maximum capacity. Schools continue to endure major adjustments to in-person, remote, and hybrid curriculums. Working from home has become commonplace. Businesses have shuttered. Unemployment has grown. Nonprofits have scrambled to pivot and adjust to rapidly-changing dire needs. Children and families have been faced with more adversity than ever before. What’s more, is that Black and Brown communities have been proven to be disproportionately affected more than others, compounding the rippling effects further than initially imagined.

A special thank you to our Valley community

Despite the challenges and adversity that so many faced during 2020, there still remains hope and inspiration during such unprecedented times. We asked members of our Valley community to submit pictures that spoke to this over the past year. Their overwhelming response is a testament to how resilient the Valley truly is.

Thank you for allowing us to share your moments of inspiration in this annual report and enabling us to shine a bright light of hope in an otherwise dark period of time. From finding humor in remote learning, to thanking our first responders, and showing gratitude in new ways, one thing is certain – we came together while apart and will continue to adjust.

VCF President & CEO Sharon Closius, 2020 Board Chair Don Smith, Jr., and 2021 Board Chair Jack Walsh
In spite of these various tribulations, 2020 has been a year of resilience for everyone at every single level in our communities.

Beneath the rampant hardship and never before seen challenges, there exists a shining light of hope, the foundational presence of community, and a collective appreciation for the silver linings found in all of this.

Many of us have found ways to come together while apart. Health, while easily taken for granted, has deservedly become a focused priority. There is a newfound regard for family, spending time with friends, and hugging those we care about. What we deem important has shifted and given way to simple gratitude. The frustrations of many new ways of life have produced a fond appreciation for what we continue to sacrifice to get through this pandemic.

Because of your commitment to the Valley Community Foundation (VCF), the region we serve, and the charitable resources we steward, we are proud to be able to assist in order to strengthen some of the most vulnerable areas of the community during a time of immensely incredible need. We hope you will continue to join us in refusing to allow COVID-19 to define the long-term vision of the Valley.

While we aren’t through the woods yet, we are confident that we will emerge stronger than ever before. The road will be long and difficult but, together, we can draw from one another’s hope and conviction.

Together, we are resilient.

With sincere regards,

Don Smith, Jr.

How to Set up a Fund

Create a Fund at VCF and Impact the Valley Forever

Define the Goal of your Fund
Would you like your fund to be flexible so that it can address changing community needs and opportunities? Is there a specific charity or cause that you would like to support? Would you like to be involved in the grantmaking?

Name your Fund
This is your legacy. You, of course, can be anonymous if you prefer. Whether it is a family fund or created in memory of a loved one, the fund will still be making grants many decades from now and beyond.

Contact us
Let’s have a conversation about how we can tailor your charitable goals to fit your personal situation. Whether you establish a fund now or give later via a planned gift, we will ensure your legacy and interests will be honored today, tomorrow, and forever.

We connect private philanthropy to the long-term public good of the Valley and offer several types of funds as referenced throughout this report. You can support an existing fund or establish a new fund with the use of cash, appreciated securities, IRA distributions, and more.

Our funds are managed through our partner in philanthropy, The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF), and their diversified investment portfolio. Over time, as the endowment grows, so do our funds and your ability to award grants.

By investing your charitable gift with us, you are increasing the long-term impact of your gift. All donations to the Valley Community Foundation are tax-deductible. When you’re ready, we will work with you to prepare the fund agreement that fits your philanthropic goals.

Impact the Valley for generations to come by creating a permanent endowed fund. Call (203) 751-9162, visit us in person at 253-A Elizabeth St., Derby, CT or view our website at www.valleyfoundation.org.
VCF’s Pivot During the Pandemic

There was once a strong feeling of hope and anticipation about the start of a new decade. That optimism dramatically changed with the onset of the pandemic. Individuals, nonprofits, schools, and corporations around the globe rapidly and fundamentally changed every aspect of life to keep moving forward.

These extraordinarily difficult times however, also brought out the best in people. Like many others, we, at VCF, also found ways to pivot our work in order to assist nonprofits and our Valley community. In doing so, we adapted our grantmaking process to respond to the new needs of area nonprofits, pulled together community partners to keep critical work flowing, and our intrepid Board of Directors showed our collective gratitude for this resilient Valley.

Grantmaking During the Pandemic

Effective grantmaking has often been both part science and art. Learning how potential grantees not only determine the need for their services but also how they plan to address that need have been key components of grant applications for years. In light of COVID-19, the Valley’s traditional grantmaking processes have forever changed.

In recent years, the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) Board of Directors began making substantial multiyear general operating grant commitments to the region’s nonprofits based on significant due diligence and recommendations from staff. More than $1.1 million was granted out from 2016-2019.

When the pandemic hit in early 2020, the VCF staff immediately embarked on a listening journey by reaching out to area nonprofits to learn what support was needed most. The response was clear and consistent – provide as much unrestricted funding as quickly as possible to help maintain daily operations.

The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF), and VCF’s Board and staff answered the call. Staff dramatically reduced the time to process responsive grants, and multiyear grant awardees were given the option to have second year grant payouts made in May rather than waiting for the traditional October release of funds. Nearly $885,000 was awarded through VCF’s 2020 responsive grants process.

“It was full steam ahead for Board and staff,” said VCF’s 2020 Board Chair Don Smith. “We wanted the community to know we were here to help in every way we could, especially by getting dollars out the door to organizations who were working tirelessly on the frontline, day in and day out.”

VCF President and CEO Sharon Closius agreed. “In a short period of time, we transitioned from the ways in which we traditionally conducted business to focusing on how we could be of the most help to the region. We are proud of all of the grant assistance we provided and look forward to continuing to listen to what the needs of the community are now and after the pandemic is behind us once and for all.”

Together in Partnership

COVID-19 Response & Recovery

Pulling Together

The Valley’s unique, hard-earned reputation of collaboration was tested unlike ever before during 2020. Very early in the pandemic, VCF brought together the leaders of the Valley United Way, Greater Valley Chamber of Commerce, and Valley Council for Health & Human Services to form a collaboration and establish the Valley Community COVID-19 Response and Recovery Fund. With our community partners, we were able to spread the word so donors would know how they could specifically help Valley nonprofits during this time of adversity. In turn, this fund also provided a single, streamlined path for Valley organizations to request COVID-related grant funding. See pages 8–9 for details.

Communication is key during any crisis. Fortunately, the Valley Council for Health & Human Services met monthly pre-COVID to share information and explore further opportunities to integrate programs. Once executive orders prevented in-person meetings, it was critical that Valley organizations had a means to communicate through the fast-changing nature of this new landscape.

VCF immediately arranged for the Council to make use of the Foundation’s teleconferencing services so the nonprofits could participate in calls twice per week. During these convenings, dozens of Valley organizations were able to stay informed by sharing updates from the Center for Disease Control, Naugatuck Valley Health District, Griffin Hospital, and local subject matter experts. VCF also provided communication support to help update the Council’s website with pertinent details for member organizations and their clients.

In the fall of 2019, VCF served as the centralized hub to create the Valley Complete Count Committee (VCCC) to improve the response rates for the 2020 U.S. Census. The data, which is collected every 10 years, is critical in determining the funding for municipalities, schools, and nonprofits. Even with the disruption of the lockdowns, the Census still needed to be completed during 2020.

Before the start of the pandemic, VCF produced materials in both English and Spanish that described the importance of completing the census. In keeping with COVID-19 guidelines, VCF moved the VCCC meetings online to regroup and develop new strategies to get the census message out.

Among many modified efforts, libraries distributed brochures via curbside book checkout and food pantries included materials in food pickups. As a result, more than 13,000 census materials were delivered to the general public, which yielded a Valley self-response rate that outperformed the state.

A Committed Board

Leading by example, the VCF Board of Directors agreed in March of 2020 to redeploy the balance of funds budgeted for events to show appreciation for frontline heroes.

From their homes during quarantine, Board members made calls to learn what was feasible given the restrictions that were put in place to slow the spread of COVID-19. Given VCF’s role in connecting community resources, it was natural that the Board would seek a way to support frontline workers and local businesses as part of this effort.

David Grant Caterers, Spice Catering Group, and Tea with Tracy offered creative ideas to ensure VCF was able to provide meaningful demonstrations of appreciation. A coordinated series of meals and snack boxes were delivered by Board members to local nursing homes and assisted living facilities.

Members of the VCF Board also worked with BJ’s Wholesale Club in Derby to put together safely-contained care packages of assorted snacks and power drinks for first responders. BJ’s delivered pre-packaged boxes of snacks to the VCF office and donated several cases of bottled water to show their support as well. Board members then personally dropped off snacks and beverages to nearly 30 police departments, fire houses, and ambulance corps throughout the Valley.

Board members also worked with Mizzi Cosmetics, a Connecticut-based beauty supply company owned by a former Ansonia native, to put together products for the staff at Griffin Hospital. More than 400 care packages of lotions and creams designed to treat the hands and faces ravaged by sanitizer use, masks, and other personal protective equipment were delivered to the hospital’s health care providers.

Though the tokens of appreciation were small in comparison to what recipients were risking to help others, those who received a meal or care package took the time to express their thanks in handwritten notes, on social media, or with phone calls, reinforcing the message of how powerful and resilient a community can be when it works together.
Despite a year of strife, many of us have found opportunities within the challenges by coming together in new ways while apart during the pandemic. In response to COVID-19, the Valley Community Foundation, Valley United Way, Greater Valley Chamber of Commerce, and the Valley Health & Human Service Council partnered during March of 2020 to establish the Valley Community COVID-19 Response and Recovery Fund.

The fund has complemented the work of federal, state, and municipal government efforts and expands local capacity to address all aspects of the outbreak as efficiently as possible. Since inception, this fund has rapidly deployed resources to organizations throughout the Valley that serve the region, especially to those who are disproportionately impacted by the coronavirus and its associated economic consequences.

On behalf of our nonprofit partners, we are grateful for the donors who demonstrated a collective passion for the communities we serve and thank you for your meaningful contribution to this ongoing effort. While the road to recovery is long and uncertain, there is incredible work being done throughout the region to ensure our community cannot only weather this storm, but ensure that the Valley will thrive for years to come.

Stewardship of Charitable Assets

The Valley Community Foundation (VCF) and The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF) have been affiliated for the past 17 years, and the assets entrusted to VCF since 2004 have been invested and managed by TCF. Access to TCF’s commingled investment management program affords VCF funds the benefits of a diverse, long-term and global endowment model by providing direct access to 47 world-class institutional investment managers specializing in more than seven distinct and differentiated asset classes.

VCF posted a return of 17.6%, net of the expense of managing the Commingled Fund, against the market benchmark of 13.4% for the year ended December 31, 2020. Even during unprecedented times in 2020 with the various impacts of COVID-19, extreme market volatility and dislocation, the annualized net return of the Commingled Fund for the trailing 3, 5, 7, and 10 years has consistently outperformed the market benchmarks and generated more than the VCF’s effective spending rate in each period. It is due to the design of the spending policy and calculations over a trailing five-year average that distributions can be managed in a predictable way that both keep pace with inflation and provide for financial resources into the community.

The Valley Community Foundation (VCF) is here to help you make a difference in the community and support the causes you care about. Every grant VCF makes comes from a gift made by someone like you. When you establish a charitable fund with us, you choose the name and purpose. Our commitment is to ensure your wishes are carried out.

We offer various types of funds to reflect your specific philanthropic goals and ambitions. In 2020, 11 funds joined VCF. Each was established for a different reason and will help address a unique cause. We are proud to share their stories with you in this annual report. Please contact us if you would like to learn more about establishing a fund. Together, we can find a solution that best fits your philanthropic plan and perpetuates your values.

Derby Historical Society Organization Fund
FUND TYPE: ORGANIZATION FUND

It is often said that the soul of a community can be found within its history. As the steward of the Lower Naugatuck Valley region’s colonial past, the Derby Historical Society (DHS) promotes that legacy and has taken steps to ensure that those today and far into the future will have the opportunity to explore and enjoy its wonderful story.

Albert “Duke” Misiewicz, Board President, said, “We understand that we occupy temporary roles as stewards for DHS, which, itself, is a small nonprofit. DHS does not have the financial expertise within our organization to manage investments. The Valley Community Foundation (VCF), through its affiliation with The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven, has the ability to invest and administer the resources in our reserve fund, which is now part a large investment pool. This is a tremendous benefit as it allows our staff and volunteers to better allocate limited resources and promote local history.”

Daniel L. Bosques, Executive Director, explained, “DHS has been around for a long time and we are lucky our predecessors provided a financial situation that enabled us to create this fund. One of our main objectives is to grow this fund so that we can properly cover the costs associated with keeping our doors open. Over time, we would like to leave members of future DHS Boards with a continuously improving financial position than what we inherited.”

Duke added, “VCF has a reputation for helping nonprofits in the Valley. The decision to invest our reserves with VCF is a win-win for everyone involved and represents the direction we want to be heading.”

DHS has a longstanding relationship with the VCF. When it came time for the DHS Board of Directors to evaluate the financial future of the Society, it was a natural choice to create an organization fund at VCF. As an investment vehicle, this organization fund aligns with the long-term goals of the Society and allows the organization to accept bequests, non-traditional gifts such as securities, real estate, and life insurance through VCF.
Memorializing someone special who made an impact during their life is an incredibly meaningful way to perpetuate their values.

When Ellen DuBoff passed away suddenly, both her family and the Shelton community came together to remember her fondly. Reaching beyond just memories, her friends, family, and former students alike worked with the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) to create the Ellen DuBoff Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Ellen’s cousin Hilary Black explained, "She fully believed in opening her students’ eyes. Ellen loved to travel and to help her Shelton High School (SHS) students understand the importance of how that related to history. She would often share the updates from our cousin who was studying in China with her students. Following her death, many people shared with us how Ellen encouraged them to see the world. They all said, ‘Had it not been for Ellen, we never would have made it a priority, and we are so glad we did.’"

Ellen grew up in West Hartford, attended Syracuse University, and began her career in Shelton teaching English, eventually shifting to history. She named her dog Yogi Berra because she loved both dogs and the Yankees. Yogi was adopted by Hilary’s family and the children now shower him with love. Ellen’s loyalty and generosity is reflected in her special relationships with everyone in her large, extended family and with members of her school community.

Through this fund, scholarships will be awarded to graduating SHS seniors and members of the girls track or cross-country teams who are continuing their education. Given that Ellen coached the women’s teams, combined with her dedication to both teaching and learning, this focus served as a fitting way to remind everyone of a woman who made a positive impact on those whose lives she touched.

The idea to establish a fund in her memory came from her friends and former colleagues at SHS. The suggestion immediately resonated with Ellen’s family because of how it supports her values and that it comes from the Valley people who meant so much to her.

After speaking with VCF President and CEO Sharon Closius, and working with VCF Donor Services Associate, Beth Colette, setting up a fund in Ellen’s memory was much easier than expected. The family agreed that this was a wonderful way to memorialize Ellen for her warmth, generous personality, and passion for students.
Neville Osmond Forsythe began his culinary career while serving as a Mess Specialist in the United States Navy. After graduating from the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park and working for several other restaurateurs, he opened his own restaurant in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

His daughter Loni Richards remembers Chef’s Underground Café as a big part of her childhood. “There was a really cool vibe. The restaurant was below the sidewalk level and so, while sitting at the tables, you could see the feet of people passing by on the sidewalk. And the food – international and Caribbean – was absolutely amazing.”

It was a family-owned and operated restaurant in which Loni along with her brother Neville II, sister Nicole, and mother Marilyn, worked before Chef’s Underground Café closed. Not long after, the family opened Mrs. B’s Reggae Café to offer the only dine-in Jamaican restaurant in the Chattanooga area. “My dad encouraged my mother to create a restaurant named after her late mother, Frances Brown. There was a stunning picture on a wall in the restaurant of my grandmother back in Jamaica wearing a long blue dress. It was like she was right there with us all the time.”

Chef, as Neville was popularly known, would drive with his wife to source special ingredients in Atlanta for the unique dishes. It was on one of these trips in 2019 that an accident claimed his life and injured Marilyn.

Loni, who also served in the Navy as an officer, was able to lead the military funeral honors for her father. She described the emotions she felt then and, later, as the family shuttered Mrs. B’s. “We wanted to do more. We knew that a funeral wasn’t how Chef would want to go out. He would want smiles and laughter so we planned a memorial service in February 2020.”

She called on her skills as the President and CEO of the nonprofit organization Service After Service, which supports the community with a focus on veterans. Some very kind friends offered the family the use of their theatre to hold a special event that raised enough money to establish this fund. Its primary focus is to offer scholarships to students who want to pursue a career in culinary arts and support Boy Scouts who struggle to participate in Scouting because of a lack of resources. “Dad was very involved in Scouting,” she said.

The family is still working to build the endowment and ensure that Chef’s legacy is permanent. “We are all very excited about how this has come together,” Loni added. “When dad passed, we all felt it in different ways,” she said. All the siblings, Nicole, Neville II, Sam, and Loni, are closer now than ever before. “This was a perfect way to preserve his memory and share his legacy with others. Establishing this fund has been empowering and continues to bring us together every day, just like how dad’s food brought loved ones together in his restaurant.”

“This was a perfect way to preserve his memory and share his legacy with others.”
While it’s never easy to lose a loved one, doing something in their memory is a way to ensure their legacy is never forgotten. Michael Hyder established the Carol Ann Hyder Memorial Fund after his wife’s passing for a very simple reason. He loved her very much.

Carol was a lifelong Shelton resident who graduated with honors from St. Mary-St. Michael School and, later, was among Shelton High School’s Class of 1956. It was there that she met Michael, whom she would marry right after high school and proudly became an Army wife. Although she spoke no German, she set up house in Germany while he was stationed there. Once they returned home years later, Carol worked as a secretary at the Farrel Corporation.

Carol was a woman of great strength and courage. She battled tuberculosis as a young adult, and later diabetes, cancer, and a stroke. Members of her family remember Carol as a giver who always went out of her way to do something nice for her family. She loved to sew, cook, and read, and had a special appreciation for Hallmark movies. Most notably, she loved music and dancing with her beloved husband.

The couple had no children but Carol enjoyed the company of animals, especially her toy poodle named Isabella.

Carol and Isabella went everywhere together and, today, the Hyder pup and Michael are now inseparable.

The Carol Ann Hyder Memorial Fund is donor advised in which Michael would like disbursements from the fund to honor Carol and support causes that were important to her. Because of the strength that she showed in battling her different medical conditions, Michael decided to honor his wife by supporting the Shelton High School scholarship program to a graduating student who has demonstrated strength in facing and conquering adversity and has a strong desire to succeed. After Carol’s passing, Michael has updated his estate plans to further support her fund. Eventually, the fund will become a designated fund to continue to provide support to the scholarship as well as organizations which assist individuals with cancer and/or diabetes.

Michael felt so much love and admiration for his beloved wife, stating “She was the strongest and most intelligent woman I’ve ever met.” He came to believe she was capable of anything and relied on her in many ways. Through this fund at the Valley Community Foundation (VCF), he honors his wife’s perseverance throughout her life and just how special Carol was to him.

Teachers often leave lasting impressions on those with whom they interact. For the educators that create scholarship funds, their values are exemplified through a legacy that will last in perpetuity.

Many teachers and students alike fondly remember Wasil Katz. Wasil spent 30 years educating elementary school children in Shelton.

“Wasil was always concerned about his students and their future,” Wasil’s niece, Harriet Karkut, recalled of her uncle. “He wanted them to have the best opportunities possible.”

A lifelong resident of Shelton and a veteran of the United States Army, Wasil enjoyed spending time with students and singing with the Stratford Congregational Church. “He had great musical talent,” Harriet said. “He sang operettas and loved teaching groups of kids about music. He was born with a passion for it and sang with a very good voice.”

Before her uncle passed away, Harriet spoke with CPA, Ray Oppel, about some financial matters since she was taking care of both her uncle and her mother for a time. Ray fondly remembered Wasil
“Mr. Katz was my sixth-grade teacher and it was wonderful to have the opportunity to see him again before he passed away,” Ray said. “I also informed Harriet about my role on the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) Board of Directors and told her how simple it would be to establish a scholarship in his name.”

Although Harriet’s role as caregiver had come to an end, she wanted to continue to honor Wasil’s memory and ensure that his legacy would live on through the students who were so important to him. That is why she decided to establish the Wasil Katz Scholarship Fund at VCF. A testament to Wasil’s dedication to learning, this fund will support graduating Shelton High School students who pursue a teaching degree at a college or university.

“Wasil would have loved to know that a scholarship would be made in his name to benefit students aspiring to be educators themselves,” said Harriet. “I cannot think of a better way to honor his memory and his life-long commitment to teaching.”

“He sang operettas and loved teaching groups of kids about music.”

Julia Krizan Scholarship Fund for the Arts
FUND TYPE: SCHOLARSHIP FUND

One of the most meaningful ways to memorialize someone for their life’s passion is through a scholarship fund to support those striving towards something similar.

Erik Martire, Interim K-12 School Counseling Curriculum Leader with the Shelton Public Schools, described the impact that funds like the Julia Krizan Scholarship Fund for the Arts have on students. “The Shelton community has an amazing tradition of giving back to its graduates,” he said. “The people behind these funds are creating opportunities for our young people while, at the same time, demonstrating the value of furthering their education.”

The Julia Krizan Scholarship Fund for the Arts was established by Shelton High School (SHS) graduates, Lawrence and Leonard Krizan, to honor their mother, Julia, who was an accomplished fine artist. In supporting her passion for the arts, the brothers decided that the scholarship should benefit a graduating SHS senior who shows outstanding artistic promise.

After Lawrence passed away in 2019, his ex-wife made a contribution to this fund as a testament of how meaningful the scholarship was to him. Because of this kind gesture, the fund became endowed at the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) and will support graduating SHS art students in perpetuity.

Erik explained, “The VCF staff was very helpful in walking me through the process. The Krizan Scholarship is our largest individual art recognition award with an annual distribution of $1,000 to a single student.”

Acknowledging the contributions and skills of students is a priority at the school. “We have a small but incredibly dedicated art staff that is proud to showcase our students,” Erik added. “An award such as the Krizan Scholarship provides them with the ability to do something special.”

“Paying for college has become quite an intimidating proposal,” Erik said. “Fortunately, we are able to make quite a big statement when we connect students with opportunities that can lessen their financial burden in continuing their education.”

Erik appreciates the Krizan family’s dedication to valuing the arts in the Shelton community. “I grew up in Shelton and love the history behind our scholarships,” he continued. “It’s a wonderful way to appreciate the people who make both our town and school community truly special.”

He concluded, “On behalf of the SHS community and the future students who will continue to be presented with new opportunities, I would like to extend our sincere appreciation to the Krizan family for establishing this fund.”
They often say that an investment in education pays a lifetime of dividends. Carol Merlone, Ed. D., firmly believes in the power of education and often uses her own experience as an example.

“A little girl who grew up in Ansonia, became a superintendent, and found herself traveling to the United Arab Emirates as a speaker in the third annual International Education Symposium in 2011, presenting on the brain and education,” Carol reflected. “You never know what doors education can open.”

Her 35-year career included 14 years of classroom work, nine in administration, and 12 as superintendent, all of which was spent in Ansonia with the exception of her first six months of work in Derby.

“I knew the children and families very well and have nothing but great memories. I wanted to give back and knew that, by establishing a scholarship fund at the Valley Community Foundation (VCF), I could make an incredible impact on the lives of students even though we may never even meet.”

The Dr. Carol Merlone Scholarship Fund will support a graduating student from Ansonia High School in the top 20% of his or her class who will be pursuing a career in education at a college or university.

“I truly believe everyone should have the opportunity to receive a good education. As a superintendent, I awarded many scholarships. I recall our business office managing them until we made the decision during my tenure to transfer our scholarship assets to VCF for administration,” Carol said. “Having a professional, trustworthy third party, like VCF, we were able to simplify our process and have the funds invested professionally, which has made the available scholarships for Ansonia Public Schools and its students stronger than ever before.”

“That transfer made me think about what I could do when I retired so that I could continue to give back,” Carol continued. “As superintendent, I set aside my pay raises to help fund supplies that students needed, like uniforms. In fact, that line item came to be called ‘Carol’s Closet.’ Eileen Ehman, grants manager of Ansonia Public Schools, suggested I ask our Board of Education to move my last raise to start a scholarship fund with VCF. I then gave an additional contribution above that amount to make up the difference so the fund could be endowed in perpetuity.”

To Carol, this scholarship fund is offering more than financial support to students. It represents opportunity as well. “I have always said once a student, always a student,” she said. “I believe every student should have the chance to be whatever they want to be. I really love the Ansonia kids and I want each one of them to succeed.”

“I believe every student should have the chance to be whatever they want to be.”
The Ortoli family has been a part of the Valley for more than a century. After decades of wide-ranging community involvement, Fred and Josephine Ortoli passed along similar values to their children Fred, Dave, and Ron. Now adults, themselves, the Ortoli brothers established the Ortoli Family Fund so the family can support their beloved community for another century and beyond.

“Our dad was involved with the Ansonia Housing Authority and our church. Mom volunteered with the American Red Cross for more than 50 years,” Fred explained. “Our family schedule was always coordinated around blood drives because of the importance our mother placed on these events. We were raised with the idea that if we had the ability to help someone, we should take action,” he said.

“Dad was on the Red Cross emergency response team and would go to a crisis to do what he could for victims and first responders,” Dave added. “Our mother was also active with the Ladies Guild and would work on the annual festival at Holy Rosary Parish. They were always extremely involved with the community. We started this fund to honor them both so that we could continue the legacy that they started.”

“Our parents always knew that while they wanted to positively impact the future, no one can see into it,” said Fred. “Nobody could have foreseen everything that happened during 2020. Hopefully the coming years will be different but it just shows how the needs of the community can rapidly change. That is why we decided to set up an unrestricted fund in which the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) Board and Staff could decide where the money would be best deployed.” Dave commented. “While I now live in Wallingford, I still have a strong appreciation for the Valley. Our brother Ron lives in Arizona and is also very supportive of this fund and what we want to do for the community in memory of our parents.”

As a photographer, Fred has offered his talents to VCF and many other nonprofit organizations serving the Valley. “I am very familiar with the work VCF has done and always found those involved to be fantastic people. That is why I ultimately decided to serve on the Board of Directors. VCF has the flexibility and permanence that we were looking for, which made this a perfect fit for what we want to accomplish through this fund.”

Dave agreed. “VCF supports so many efforts, which is reminiscent of all that our parents had always done for the Valley. Our hope is that we can also support the good work taking place in the region now and long after we’re gone.”

Dr. Beth Smith has spent more than three decades in the field of education. During this time she served as a teacher, assistant principal, principal, director, and interim superintendent. Beth developed a reputation for putting her students first, always encouraging them to do their best. While knowledge is powerful so too is the impact of one’s legacy.

After her sister-in-law passed away from cancer at a young age, Beth began to seriously consider her own end of life planning. She decided she wanted to help the community that has meant so much to her when she is no longer here. It is often a topic many people avoid but for Beth, it led her down a path to creating the Dr. Beth A. Smith Fund at the Valley Community Foundation (VCF).

“I have a great friendship with VCF President and CEO Sharon Closius,” Beth said. “After we talked about this and my charitable ambitions, I decided that creating a fund with VCF was the right thing to do.”

Beth has been long aware of VCF but came to know how community foundations can create local impact when Shelton High School entrusted VCF with the management and administration of its scholarship program in 2014. Beth was Headmaster of Shelton High School at the time and worked closely with Sharon on the transfer of the scholarship funds, which totaled nearly half a million dollars.

When it came time for Beth to create her own fund, she discussed her ambitions with her family and explained both what was important to her and why.

“I structured this fund in a way that is unique to me, which will ultimately go on to support the organizations that have helped mold me into the person that I am today,” Beth said. “My faith is extremely important to me and I want to help those that assisted in my faith formation so they can continue to help others. Growing up I was fortunate to have had an amazing educational experience and spent my career in education and want others to have those opportunities.

“I structured this fund in a way that is unique to me, which will ultimately go on to support the organizations that have helped mold me into the person that I am today.”

Sturgis A. and Madeleine Martin Sobin Family Fund
FUND TYPE: DESIGNATED FUND

Lifelong Valley residents Sturgis and Madeleine Sobin grew roots in the community that ran deep and were meaningfully intertwined with the lives of those around them. Their success as community-minded leaders in the Valley came about not only through their natural gifts and hard work, but also through the support they received from their Valley neighbors.

Growing up, the families of both Sturgis and Madeleine impressed upon them the importance of educational goals and becoming involved in their community. Their parents led by example by engaging with local Valley organizations.

Sturgis joined his father’s antique furniture restoration business and was nationally recognized as an expert in his field. “The Shop,” as it was affectionately known by locals, served as a gathering place for civic discussion. With much support, Sturgis went on to become a leader in many civic organizations in the Valley, ultimately serving as Mayor for the City of Ansonia. Encouragement and assistance from family, the community, and shared resources were vital to his success.

Madeleine was able to become a teacher in Derby thanks to local scholarships and her academic achievements. She honored that generosity by volunteering at the Ansonia Public Library for several years. She continued to support many other organizations throughout her life, bringing the generosity she received back full circle to the community she loved. Madeleine would later receive the Luminary Award from Birmingham Health Group Services, now BHcare, for her involvement in the organization’s creation and 30-years of volunteer service.

Sturgis and Madeleine were fortunate enough to realize many of the dreams they had for their children. They saw all five graduate from college and recognized how encouragement from a teacher could spark further learning. The children experienced firsthand how community programs like scouts and library clubs could help develop additional life skills and passions.

Now adults, the Sobin siblings quickly understood how the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) could steward charitable assets and make a difference for organizations and families, including their own. That is why they created the Sturgis A. Sobin and Madeleine Martin Sobin Family Fund in their parents’ memory, which will support the students and teachers at Ansonia High School and Emmett O’Brien Technical High School.

Daughter, Cathy Szanto, said on behalf of the family, “We know this fund will open doors to new opportunities for others. We believe this will lead to the enrichment and betterment of the Valley and we have faith that it will also encourage the next generation of charitable givers. It is our way of reciprocating the support that we received from the community at critical moments in our lives.”

“We cannot thank VCF enough for their assistance in helping us memorialize our parents’ vision,” she added. “We are excited to learn how this fund will be used by the students and teachers that it is dedicated to serving.”

Martha Dulla-Andrade has a longstanding history with the Valley Community Foundation (VCF). “Back when I owned Grassy Hill Lodge in Derby, I recall many VCF meetings taking place there,” she said. “I still volunteer on VCF’s Community Grants Committee each year and have known about the organization’s reputation and collaboration with so many area nonprofits. VCF has a track record of always being at the forefront of meaningful Valley activities.”

As a result, Martha has entrusted VCF with a special task: remembering her mother’s cousin Emil J. Varga. “I called him my uncle and was very close to him,” she said. Emil lived in New Jersey until he fell ill. “I was his only family and the drive back and forth to check in on him was becoming too much so I moved him to Connecticut to live with me, where I could take care of him,” Martha said.

Despite living with cerebral palsy and, later in life, non-Hodgkin’s lymphoma, Emil would spend his free time volunteering at the local soup kitchen or food pantry in New Jersey. “He was a special man who would simply rather give to others than receive. That was his motto and that is really how he lived his life,” Martha added.

“Emil’s faith and conviction always impressed Martha. “He would say, ‘If you don’t stand for something, you will fall for anything,’ and that you need faith in your life,” she said. “It’s heartwarming to be able to say that VCF is and will continue to be there to help in times of need. Through this fund, I am thankful that VCF will perpetuate the values that such a good person like Emil lived by.”

“He walked everywhere he could, even in the cold, to offer his time and services to those in need,” Martha said. “He was a teacher for more than 30 years who loved his community and was incredibly generous.”

Throughout his life, Emil lived frugally and simply, and he wanted to make a difference in the futures of children. He was also Catholic and the church was an extremely important part of his life. “After Emil passed, I wanted to honor him and the ideals that he held so close,” she continued. “This fund will support students in any grade at Assumption School in Ansonia but can also be used to support teachers and curriculums. If there is a pressing need, this fund can be used for that as well. For instance, sometimes there are mandates that may require additional teacher certifications and the school might not have the money to fund that.”

Emil’s faith and conviction always impressed Martha. “He would say, ‘If you don’t stand for something, you will fall for anything,’ and that you need faith in your life,” she said. “It’s heartwarming to be able to say that VCF is and will continue to be there to help in times of need. Through this fund, I am thankful that VCF will perpetuate the values that such a good person like Emil lived by.”

Organization and Fiduciary Funds

Nonprofit organizations can set up either a permanent Organization Endowment Fund, which is a component fund of the Foundation, or an Organization Fund, which is for investment only. Both funds provide a stable source of distributable revenue for the nonprofit. On occasion, there are charitable projects that are not attached to a specific nonprofit organization and VCF has been asked to serve as a “fiduciary” to accept the charitable donations and oversee the disbursements in order to fulfill the project.

The Gates Society

The Gates Society is a close circle of friends who share a special love and appreciation for this region and its people, by making a planned philanthropic commitment to the Valley through the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) or one of its funds.

The Society is named in honor of Ross and Frank Gates, the brothers of a prominent Derby family. In 1938, the brothers created trusts in the family name at The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF) to support broad charitable purposes with consideration that the income benefit the residents of Derby and vicinity. Today, this fund continues to support the Valley with more than $1.1 million annually.

Joining VCF’s planned giving community is simple. Let us know you have named VCF or one of our funds in your estate plan or if you would like to discuss the many options for making a difference in the Valley either now or in the future.

What is a Charitable Lead Trust

A charitable lead trust enables you to make a significant commitment to a charity now while transferring substantial assets to beneficiaries later. You can place cash or property into a trust that pays income to a charity for the number of years you select or for someone’s lifetime. Once this period ends, the assets held by the trust are transferred to the beneficiaries you name, most often your direct heirs, which often saves substantial transfer taxes. You can also revert the trust assets back to yourself.

CHARITABLE LEAD TRUST

Diagram provided by HT Partners Family Wealth Counselors.
Karen and Twan Bentlage Join the Gates Society with a Charitable Lead Trust

In 2016, Karen and Twan Bentlage established the Marion Shortell and Joseph Meade Fund, named in honor of Karen’s parents, who were active in the Valley during their lifetimes and set an example for their own children and grandchildren of giving back. Karen and Twan decided to establish the fund as a donor advised fund so they could have one vehicle to easily direct their annual charitable contributions to and then be able to distribute to the charities of their choice in the future.

During financial planning sessions with the Bentlage’s advisor Christopher Koehm, the couple learned of the great tax benefits of setting up a charitable lead trust (CLT). Chris explained, “CLTs are great planning vehicles to use in order to provide a stream of income for a favorite charity for a period of time and then be able to gift assets to your children or grandchildren at the end of the term. These trusts are especially attractive right now because the federal interest rate is so low which allows for a greater amount of the earnings to be passed along to the non-charitable beneficiary.”

Karen and Twan were able to place a generous amount into a CLT that will be invested and overseen by a trustee for the next 20 years, during which time the trust will distribute $50,000 annually to the Marion Shortell and Joseph Meade Fund at VCF. At the end of the term, the remainder of the trust assets (including all appreciated earnings that accrued in the trust) will be released and go to their heirs.

Karen and Twan are successful business owners who are interested in providing for charities and pass along an inheritance to their heirs in the most tax efficient way. Karen said, “This CLT is a win-win all the way around! We’ve worked hard and have been financially blessed. It takes some effort to plan but we want to make sure we are gifting our assets to all the causes we care about, whether family, friends and/or community, in efficient ways.”

The Great Give® 2020

The Great Give® is an annual 36-hour online giving event created in 2010 by The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF) to increase philanthropy in its 20-town region, which has tremendous participation in the Valley each year.

The Great Give® 2020 was a spectacular success in bringing Greater New Haven’s community together during difficult times to raise $3.5 million online for nearly 400 nonprofits. Not only was the amount raised nearly double that of the prior year, but the number of total donors was up by approximately 40% – a sign of the commitment and generosity of the region to rally for its continued well-being.

This continues to be an incredible giving event year after year that brings so much support to Valley nonprofits. The outpouring of generosity was seen throughout the region, especially during a year like 2020, when many of these organizations faced the challenges of having to add new programming and cut major fundraising events in response to COVID-19.

A total of $488,000 was raised with the help of Valley residents, employees, and VCF donor advised fund holders for nonprofit organizations located in Ansonia, Derby, Oxford, Seymour and Shelton. This total represents an increase of nearly $200,000 over 2019 and includes prizes and sponsorship support from VCF, which was used to match Valley donations. A total of 2,569 gifts were made by donors who identified themselves as living/working in the Valley. These donors gave to 254 different participating organizations.

Thank you for stepping up and making a tremendous impact on the community.

Community Investments

Our mission is to make the Valley a better place to live and work, both now and in the future, by connecting private philanthropy to the long-term public good of the Valley.

Note: This data reflects grants made through the New Responsive, Needs and Opportunities, Multi-year, and Community Grants programs. It does not include $135,000 in capacity building and community initiative support. These grant programs would not be possible without the significant financial and staffing contributions provided by our partner in philanthropy, The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven.

Responsive Grants
VCF’s annual Responsive Grants program is open to requests for organizational support and projects that serve Ansonia, Derby, Seymour, Shelton, and/or Oxford. These grants are awarded to address a nonprofit’s operating, programmatic, or capacity building needs.

Boys & Girls Club of the Lower Naugatuck Valley - To provide general operating support for cultural, recreational, physical, and educational programs to Valley youth. $160,000

Central Connecticut Coast YMCA - To provide general operating support for the Valley YMCA programming that builds healthy spirit, mind, and body for Valley residents. $140,000

Friends of the Ansonia Nature Center - To support the renovation and expansion of the reptile and amphibian habitat exhibit at the Ansonia Nature and Recreation Center. $25,000

Housatonic Council, Boy Scouts of America - To provide general operating support for scouting programs for Valley youth. $130,000

Literacy Volunteers of Greater New Haven - To provide general operating support for adult literacy tutoring in Greater New Haven and the Valley. $60,000

Massaro Community Farm, Inc. - To provide general operating support to maintain a historic farm using organic practices, to provide fresh produce to the needy, and to build community through farm-based education and events. $4,400*

Online Journalism Project, Inc. - To provide general operating support for The Valley Independent Sentinel. $160,000

Oxford Historical Society, Inc. - To support renovations and repairs of Mr. Munn’s Schoolhouse. $12,400*

Shelton Historical Society, Inc. - To support repairs of the Shelton History Center complex. $13,100*

TEAM, Inc. - To provide general operating support for multigenerational service delivery system focused on support services, early childhood, and elderly services. $180,000

Please Note – All grants except those starred represent multi-year support.
Community Investments

Needs and Opportunities Grants

Needs and Opportunities grants range from $250 to $10,000 and are designed to promptly address the needs of Valley non-profits through a simplified application process.

VCF thanks outgoing Board Member
Alan Tyma

In Memoriam 2020
The VCF Board and Staff reflect on the passing of Board member, James Hodge, Jr. In addition to his service on the VCF Board, he was actively involved in the Valley and took tremendous strides to improve the quality of life in the region.

Partners in Philanthropy
The Valley Community Foundation (VCF) partners with The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF) to carry-out its mission in Ansonia, Derby, Oxford, Seymour and Shelton. This relationship provides VCF with access to the strength of TCF, which was established in 1928 and is one of the oldest and largest community foundations in the United States and remains the largest grantmaker to nonprofits serving a twenty-town region in the heart of central Connecticut. VCF shares a CFO and uses TCF’s investment expertise, programming and development knowledge. This strong relationship provides VCF with an immediate support structure that allows its Board of Directors to focus on leadership and development.

VCF wishes to thank The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven staff and all the volunteers for their time, contributions and expertise.
